Warriors Of The Sand

Making Peace With The Warriors Of The Sand is a book written by Dr. Jeffrey Seif and Dr. Ihab Griess. The book explores the history of the Sand Creek Massacre, a battle that took place on November 29, 1864, in what is now eastern Colorado. The book discusses the events leading up to the massacre, the lives of the warriors involved, and the lasting effects of the event on the region. The book also explores the attempts at peace-making and the complexities of the warrior societies of the time. The book is a historical account that is valuable for those interested in the history of the American West and the impact of the Sand Creek Massacre on the region.
